Road Information for Emergency Personnel's Use

This information will be provided and updated once each day. Please share this with those that may have a need for the information. It will only be providing information as this office knows it. It will not be 100% accurate or will not include all areas of the county due to notification responsibilities of the local entities providing the information for posting.

As the flooding runs thru this county, situations will change constantly, it is up to the individual to always be alert and travel with extreme caution on all rural road systems at this time and travel only when absolutely necessary.
